NEWS TO NOTE

CORRECTION

In the February issue of STN an error appeared in the account of previous winners of the Engineering Librarian of the Year award, on p. 55. The article inadvertently implied that Thomas Conkling, one of the co-winners of the award given in 1995, was no longer Head of the Engineering Library at Penn State University. This was incorrect- he still holds that position. We regret the mistake.

ACTIVITY ON LIST SERVS

According to statistics compiled by Gad Engler, who is List Manager for the lists operated for the Sci-Tech and Engineering divisions, the two lists are running neck and neck in numbers of subscribers. The list for the Sci-Tech Division had 172 subscribers as of March 1997, while there were 167 subscribers for the list sponsored by the Engineering Division. Those seeking information on becoming a subscriber could contact Gad at this address:

notgad@lsuvm.sncc.lsu.edu .

Most subscribers find it very worthwhile to receive the varied messages found on these lists as well as using them for obtaining information on topics of interest.

AUDIOVISUAL PROGRAMS

The Journal of Academic Media Librarianship recently added a new column featuring audiovisual program reviews. They are currently searching for people to write brief reviews of various programs. Anyone interested should contact Lori Widzinski at this address:

widz@ascu.buffalo.edu .

VIRTUAL REALITY PROGRAM

Attendees at the SLA Conference in Seattle in June may be interested in a program dealing with the basics of virtual reality technology and their applications. Sponsors for the Wednesday event include the Engineering and Sci-Tech divisions.

GREAT LAKES REGIONAL CONFERENCE

The next Great Lakes Regional Conference will be held Oct. 1-3 in Madison, Wisconsin, sponsored by the Wisconsin Chapter of SLA. The theme is "Beacon to the 21st Century." Details may be obtained from Mary Jo Hansen, Conference Coordinator at mjh@execpc.com .

ENGINEERING LITERATURE GUIDE

The Union List of Technical Reports, Standards and Patents, 3rd ed., has just been published by the American Society for Engineering Education, 1818 N Street NW, Suite 800, Washington, DC 20036. The guide is priced at $15.00 (ASEE members) or $17.00 (non-members) plus $3.00 for shipping/handling.

It lists the technical reports, standards, and patents in more than 40 libraries in North America. Information on ordering can be obtained by contacting Tamara Gronet, ASEE.
